THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CON-VENTION.

A National Convention of the Republican party will meet at Chicago, Wednesday, the 24th of June next, for the nomination of candidates to be supported for President and Vice President at the next election.

Republicans, and all who will co-operate with them in supporting the nominee of the party, are invited to choose two delegates from each Congressional District, four at large from each State, two from each Territory, and two from the District of Columbia, to represent them in the Convention.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

ROOMS OF THE REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE, MILWAUKEE, Feb. 14, 1880.

A State Convention of delegates representing the Republican party of Wisconsin, and of all who will co-operate with them in supporting the Nominees of the party, is hereby called to meet at the Capitol in Madison, at twelve o'clock M., on Wednesday, May 13th, 1880, for the purpose of placing in nomination an electoral ticket of ten electors to be supported by the party at the next Presidential election, and also to select twenty delegates (two from each Congressional District and four from the State at large), to represent the Republican party of Wisconsin in the National Republican Convention, which is called to meet at Chicago on the 24th of June, A. D. 1880, and to transact such other business as may be deemed advisable.

Each Senate and Assembly District is entitled to two delegates in the Convention.

The Democrats have found it necessary to postpone the stealing of Wisconsin's seat till after the Presidential election. They have all the blunders on have they can attend to before the election.

It is currently reported that President Chapin, of Beloit College, is the oldest college president, so far as service is concerned, there is in the United States. He has served continuously since 1851, when he was elected. The next oldest in the service is President Anderson, of the Rochester (N. Y.) University.

The Legislature will adjourn sine die on Wednesday. There is not to-day a dozen bills to be disposed of, so what will be done in the meantime, will be of no special consequence. A great many members have abandoned the capitol, and have retired to their homes and will not return.
The Rock county members will hold the fort till the last scene has been enacted.

It is difficult for us to see the use or the necessity of the Janesville Gazette in misrepresenting the people of Madison, and especially its press, in regard to their position on the Biennial question. The opposition of both the people and the press of this city has been in good temper, and not "bitter and unchristianlike," nor are the people in "unbearable despair," as the Gazette charges. Our people, and the press, are content to take things as they are given to us, and our place will continue to thrive, when many cities that now revel in it, are mere dead stations on some side railroad. Such wholesale misrepresentation as the Gazette indulges in in this question, is a disgrace to respectable journalism.—State Journal.

Good! That is the most positive thing we ever saw in the Journal. Verily, it is improving.

The reverend Hayden, who was accused of killing poor Mary Stannard, and who was doubtless guilty of the crime, does not meet with much success in lecturing on "Circumstantial Evidence." If this man had any of the kindly instincts of humanity in him, he would shrink from appearing before a public audience for the purpose of making money out of the notoriety he has gained out of that unfortunate affair.
If he was innocent of the crime and had a heart that could be touched by the horrors that cluster around her shocking death, he would return to his secluded home, and hold her name in reverend silence.

How would this national ticket strike the popular mind? For President, Ben Hill, of Georgia; for Vice President, Clarence Davis, of Illinois, forming a union of the most adulterous and the biggest bigamist of this generation. This ticket would have two advantages over any other competing combination. First, it is not sectional; the candidates are representatives of two States in the two diverse sections of the country. Second, instead of ransacking heaven, earth, and other portions of the universe for political or religious objections to the ticket, the campaign would be reduced to a single issue, that of personal adoption to their respective offices.

The lovers of dogs and other citizens will find interesting reading in the recent cases of hydrophobia in Chicago. A rabid dog in that city not long ago bit a half dozen or more persons and a large number of horses before he was destroyed. A few days since a man died in the hellish agonies of that relentless disease—and this man was bitten by simply attempting to put an innocent looking pup out of his store. Several persons in Chicago are waiting in a suspense which no tongue can describe for the terrible results of the poison in their system.
Janesville is overrun with wretched curs—roaming vagabonds whose only province seems to be to invade the back yards of our citizens and terrify the children. It is probable that until a case or two of the terrible malady actually occurs in our city, nothing will be done towards getting rid of the nuisance. But that something ought to be done is most plain.

Westward the Star of Empire, political hacks, and financial wrecks, take their way. B. F. Allen, after sinking his own and many other persons' fortunes, turns up as a mine operator in Leadville. A. C.

AN AWFUL TRAGEDY.

Shocking Murder of Two Young Ladies by Their Uncle in Missouri.

MARSHFIELD, Mo., March 12.—News from a reliable source reached here to-day of a terrible tragedy which recently occurred in the southern part of Howell county, this State. An old man has drawn a pension, and $300 of the money remained in his possession. He resided on a farm with his two grown daughters. He had gone from home and left the money, $400 with each of his daughters. About dark of the night of the murder a stranger appeared and desired lodgings for the night. The young ladies explained their lonely condition, and refused to entertain the stranger.
He persisted, and being quite an elderly man of good appearance, the young ladies finally consented to let him remain. At bedtime the young ladies repaired to their apartments in the second story, and left the old gentleman to sleep in a room below.

In the latter part of the night he was awakened by a noise up stairs as if some one were struggling, and being armed with a revolver, he proceeded cautiously up the stairs and to the door of the room in which the young ladies had retired.
When at the door of the room he discovered the form of a man in the room, and at about the same time the man discovered him, started toward him, and struck at him with a knife, but missed him.
Then the old man fired, and the intruder fell dead. The old man then rushed out of the house, heard chickens crowing, and ran in that direction until he came to a house where he found a woman sitting by the fire. He explained his mission and what he had done. The woman said, "That is my husband and my uncle, he went there to rob them." The stranger took a fresh start, and started on a run to find another house, which he did in about half a mile. The neighborhood was alarmed and a posse gathered, and before daylight they were at the scene of the tragedy.
The uncle was found dead on the floor with $300 in one hand and the knife in the other. The two young ladies were found in bed with their throats cut. The villainous uncle obtained entrance by means of a ladder through one of the upper windows.

HORRIBLE MURDER.

CINCINNATI, March 14.—The Gazette's special from Waynesville, Ohio, says that a brutal murder was discovered there this evening. Gideon Carson and his wife have been living the past winter in an old school house in the outskirts of the village in most abject poverty, intensified by Carson's intemperance and ill-health. He has been known to be very violent in temper when drunk. At 6 o'clock to-night a young man who wanted to get Mrs. Carson to do some washing to-morrow rapped at the door. Getting no response, he entered, and found the room in utter confusion. Mrs. Carson lay on the floor part of the bed murdered. A portion of her left cheek was entirely cut off, which he afterward found in a bowl. The fatal blow had apparently been given with a hatchet. The Coroner was called, when it was found that Mrs. Carson was entirely nude, being covered with a b. i. tick, and her husband was lying in a drunken stupor on the back part of the bed. He was taken to jail, where he raved enough to say he knew his wife was dead, that she was killed about 1 o'clock, but said he did not know who did it. Carson is between 50 and 60 years of age, and has been a highly respectable man. He was at one time in the dry goods business, and for a long time was a trusted clerk in Haines, Wright & Co's store. Within the past few years he has been drinking heavily.

THE HILL SCANDAL.

Mrs. Lockwood's Charges—The Position Senator Hill is Placed in.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Postmaster General Key says that it is not true, as charged by Mrs. Lockwood, that Ben Hill got a man appointed in his department.
Mr. Key says Hill never secured the appointment of a single person in the Postoffice Department, nor has he of late years made an effort to do so. He learned from other sources, however, that the person referred to by Mrs. Lockwood is employed in the Postoffice Department, but Ben Hill had nothing whatever to do with his appointment. There are many circumstances which seem to sustain Mrs. Lockwood in her charges, and Hill can hardly avoid giving more attention to them. Hill also denies that he has ever had a page appointed in the Senate, and brings the certificate of the Sergeant-at-Arms to corroborate his statement. But it is, nevertheless, a fact that a brother of the girl Hill is charged with seducing a page in the Senate. The Senator is in an embarrassing position for a shining light in the Methodist church to occupy. Within a month he has been charged by a responsible person with having seduced two women, and he merely contents himself with a denial and a claim that the accusation is made for the purpose of blackmail. Some of his fellow Senators think he ought to make an example of Mrs. Lockwood, the female lawyer who makes these charges.

If her motive is blackmail, as under the laws of the District, she may be sent to the Penitentiary for attempting to extort money under such circumstances, but he has taken no step in this direction.

CHIEF-JUSTICE RYAN.

Some of the Peculiarities of His Mental Malady.

MILWAUKEE, March 13.—A Madison special press dispatch to a Sunday newspaper says that the exact condition of Chief-Justice Ryan's health from time to time is as much a mystery as can well be imagined. It is the subject of inquiry by all who come here, including of the Bar and newspaper men, but no satisfactory information is received. There does not appear to be any doubt that his physical health is good, or would be but for his mental discomfiture. He is a confirmed hypochondriac, and insists that he is dangerously and hopelessly ill, and he has frequent spells when his symptoms are very threatening. But his greatest ailment is his mind, which appears to be decidedly unstrung. The violence of his temper and the frequent tornadoes and tempests of passion in which he has indulged through life, have at length borne their inevitable fruit, and his mind has become unbalanced, without any symptoms however, of softening of the brain. It is reported that his attending physician, Dr.
Phil Fox, on his regular call the other day, was asked by the Chief Justice for an honest opinion as to his complaint, the nature of his illness, and the remedies which were being administered.

"I do not think," was Dr. Fox's reply, "that you will so far recover as to be able to resume your place again upon the bench."
"Whether I can go upon the Bench again or no is my business, not yours," roared the infuriated invalid.
"But it is my business to fit you for your duties again if possible," courteously responds the physician.
A tigerish snarl was all the reply vouchsafed.

A few days ago Dr. Kempster, Superintending Physician of the Northern Lunatic Asylum, went, at Dr. Fox's request, with him on his professional call on the Chief-Justice. Dr. Kempster carefully watched the symptoms and indications in all their various features, and does not hesitate to say that the demoralization he proceeds to far as to leave no hopes of a recovery of the intellectual faculties, and that the Chief-Justice cannot again go upon the Bench. At the same time there is no reason, apparently, why he may not live many years in the enjoyment of comfort and good physical health, but with his mind so impaired as to unfit him for official professional labor.

The Milwaukee Chamber of Commerce case (Barnard vs. Backhaus), involving the validity of option contracts, and the whole system of Board of Trade business, is still undecided. It was referred to the Chief-Justice, after a very able argument at the Bar, to write the opinion, in December last, and the announcement of the decision was expected in January. But he has not yet touched it, and the sense of delicacy of the other Justices has prevented them from taking it out of his hands.
So, although it is known that the case has been actually decided by an unanimous court, the announcement is withheld, and nobody knows what it is.

The mental discomfiture of the Chief Justice is not of such a nature as to impair the wonderful force and vitality of his intellect in professional research or labor, if his mental condition would permit him to undertake such a task. It is his thoughts are filled with a thousand brooding fancies, with hypochondriac gloom, and apprehensions of death. When he is in his calmest states, or when his temper is aroused, is at the most trivial events, a storm of emotion takes possession of him, and rages like a cyclone, after which exhaustion follows, producing those physical conditions in which death is regarded as near at hand. He is very much like himself again until the next outbreak.

A current story at Madison will be read with interest in this connection. When, a few months since, it became necessary for Mrs. Nelson Dewey, on account of her mental condition, to seek seclusion in the Madison Hospital for the Insane, it was with great difficulty that she was persuaded to take this step. Argument and solicitation, with the probability that force would be used for her removal if she further refused, at length induced her to enter the carriage with her physician, Dr. John Fayle, to be conveyed to the asylum. As they were passing Chief Justice Ryan's residence, Mrs. Dewey, who was seated next to what form do you consider that my mental aberration has assumed, or what is its nature?" "Well," said Dr. Fayle, in his blandest and most deliberate tones, "Mrs. Dewey, we call it the excess of an unbearable temper." "Doctor, hadn't we better stop and take in the Chief Justice on the same grounds?" was the reply.
"No," said Dr. Fayle, "the patient, whose mental disease is really resembling greatly that of Judge Ryan, from which, however, she has, happily, so far recovered as to be restored to her family and friends."

THE SALVATION ARMY.

Its Efforts to Convert the Wicked
New Yorkers Formally Begun.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The advance guard of the Salvation Army formally began its work in New York to-day. A proposed meeting in Union Square had to be given up, as the necessary permission could not be obtained from the authorities. In the morning the "army" made an informal reconnoissance through the southern part of the city, in Greenwich and West streets, near Castle Garden. It only numbered six as two of Commissioner [Raiton's] Lieutenants, Clara Price and Miss Evans, have gone to Philadelphia. But the old uniforms in force supplied the place of numbers in attracting a few curious followers. The sisters are apparently English peasant women of very limited intelligence. Their costume is of plain black material, with a red cord running through the collar, which bears a golden letter S.

They wear brown straw hats, with crimson bands, bearing the words "Salvation Army." In their short morning tour they visited all the barber shops and saloons which they found open, and in most cases at the close of his address, the "Army" knelt in prayer, and swayed backwards and forwards as petitions were offered.
Raiton said that in England they were in the habit of singing songs in the streets and in different places they invaded. They did not do so today, however, as they feared the police would not permit it.
They were received well everywhere, and no attempt was made to ridicule or interrupt their work. They expressed much satisfaction, and were somewhat surprised at the politeness with which they were treated. Their service is somewhat after the manner of the early Methodist

IA PRESENT

From General Grant to Li Hung Chong.

NEW YORK, March 14.—While in China General Grant went up to the Yang See Kiang River, and was entertained in a princely manner by the Viceroy of the province of Chi Li, Li Hung Chang, who is said to have expended $20,000 in the three days during which the party were his guests. Upon their departure he gave them many splendid presents. Before General Grant sailed for Cuba, he ordered from Tiffany an elaborate silver pitcher, to be made of harmless silver, and similar in design to one made by the same firm for the Duke of Argyle, to be presented to Mr. Gladstone; it is covered with ivy leaves, and is further ornamented with butterflies, beetles, etc., in bronze, iron and gold. Upon the bottom of the pitcher is engraved the following: "His Excellency, Li Hung Chang, Viceroy of Chi Li, from U. S. Grant, 1880." Its cost is $300, and it has been sent to the Chinese Embassy at Washington for transmission abroad.

DISGRACEFUL SCENE.

RACINE, March 14.—This evening, Al.
Groth, a colored man, was arrested and lodged in jail for disturbing a colored church. It seems that the members of the church presented Mr. Cone, a Sunday school teacher, with a cane. "Prof" Car-wright, who is under $200 bonds to keep the peace with the colored population, was present, and got up to make a few remarks.
The congregation did not appreciate his efforts, and hissed and stamped, so he was obliged to give up. His wife then accused Groth of making the disturbance, and a general row prevailed, and Car-wright got wind and wanted to exterminate Groth. Six negroes caught hold of him and held him while he tried to make a run for it. He was finally wounded, but he was finally taken down, and a man named Glickert went down and had Groth arrested on the above complaint.
It was a disgraceful scene in the house of the Lord and the greatest wonder is that blood was not shed.

PRESIDENTIAL.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—It is well known in Washington circles that Grant will cut short his tour to Mexico, and hurry back to the United States, by the urgent advice of those who have his canvass particularly in charge. They say it doesn't look well for him to seem to be unwilling to stay in his own country, except when he is governing it on a large scale. The belief that Grant will be nominated at Chicago does not gain strength at the capitol. It is admitted on all sides that Sherman is a failure.
Blaine's weakness lies mainly in his inability to get delegates from any New England States except Maine and possibly New Hampshire. The opinion gathers momentum that after a struggle in some way or other, the outcome at Chicago will be Eliza B. Washburne. It is assumed that not a few of the Washburnes think so.

THE ELECTORAL COUNT.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—It has been substantially decided by Congress; Democrats of both houses of Congress that no legislation on the subject of counting the electoral votes will be enacted this session, and a committee of the Senate caucus had a long consultation together in regard to the expediency of reviving the old twenty-second joint rule to govern the counting of the electoral votes, and maintaining and declaring the results of the coming Presidential election. The indications at to-day's meeting were that this rule or something very similar will be adopted. But of course the question is not considered as urgent or as important as it would be if the House and Senate were controlled by different political parties.

A PERCUTED PARSON.

NEW YORK, March 13.—The Times publishes a two column account of a singular persecution directed for the past three weeks against Rev. Morgan Dix by a party or parties unknown. Business men here and throughout the country have overwhelmed him with answers to letters which he never wrote. Tradesmen of all kinds have called upon him, junkmen and "old clo" dealers have rung his bell at the hours of the day, and clergymen have been invited to dine with him —all the result of forged communications from so malicious persons. Detectives have vainly endeavored to ferret them out.
Dix alleges that he is ignorant of any cause for such persecution.

SUICIDE.

Boston, March 14.—George H. Hammond committed suicide last night by hanging He was a well known actor. His stage name was George H. Hillman. He was the father of the "Little Hillmans," and played a long time with Yankee Locke.

GOOD EVIDENCE.

When such men as the Rev. Dr. Rankin, Rev. Dr. Harvey, Prof. Green, Dr. Bartine, Col. John K. McChesney, E. W. Neff, and a host of others equally trustworthy, certify over their own signatures to the marvelous efficacy of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, in the diseases for which it is recommended, it is time to dismiss doubts on the subject.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The Senate Votes Thanks to the Officers of the Senate.

Both Houses Closing Up Business so as to Adjourn Tomorrow.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Special to the Gazette.

THE SENATE.

MADISON, March 15.—The Senate, held a session this morning. A resolution was passed thanking Lieutenant Governor Bingham and President Pro Tem Scott, for the able manner in which they had presided over deliberations during the session. Chief Clerk Bross and Sergeant-at-Arms Ingersoll, were also complimented.

In the morning no business of importance was transacted. Both Houses held evening sessions to-night, and will probably adjourn sine die by twelve o'clock to-morrow. No more than one-third of members of the House are here, but appropriation bills having been passed there is no necessity for a quorum.

Third lake is almost half open and Fourth lake breaking up quite generally Weather clear and cold.

A LETTER FROM THE STATE PRIS- ON.

WAUPUN, Wis., March 9 1880.

It is nearly a year since I wrote to "The Janesville Gazette," not because there were no items worth communicating to your journal, but I feared you would give me the cold shoulder should I correspond too often.

OUR OYSTER DINNER.

It is rather an unusual thing for those who are expiating real or imaginary crimes in a penitentiary to be feasted by outside gentlemen, and notwithstanding this fact the inmates of this prison have been treated on three occasions to sumptuous repasts.
It is generally known throughout the State that we convicts are employed at shoemaking for the firm of M. D. Wells & Co., of Chicago, Illinois. Those gentlemen took a notion to treat their employes and the officers of this prison to a supper and a dance, and at the same time they generously resolved to supply us with some of the good things of the globe. Accordingly huge quantities of oysters and crackers were shipped from Chicago to this prison, and a square meal was provided for us at their expense, and I can assure the readers of "The Gazette" that we did ample justice to the well-stewed terebinth shell fish. Hurrah for Messrs. Wells and McFarland!

THE SUPPER AND DANCE.

Last Tuesday evening the employes of M. D. Wells & Co., together with the officers of this prison and some invited guests, assembled at Opera Hall brought about eight o'clock, and after jokes, songs and dancing, Mr. McFarland and wife were there, and although this gentleman is transacting a business in which he has $300,000 invested, he and his better half danced and conversed familiarly with the poorest man in his employment. This speaks well of him, and all have to concede that Mr. McFarland is not a coarse-prond man. The supper was furnished by Mrs. Simpson, and Hotchkiss' Quintette Orchestra, of Fox Lake, evoked the sweet sounds. The whole entertainment for employes and convicts must have cost M. D. Wells & Co. between four and five hundred dollars. May they never lack funds.

SHOEMAKING IS KING.

There was a great deal of chair making material on hand when the shoe factory started into being, this prison, but it has all been worked up of late. Mr.
Hiederman, who was master mechanic of the chair factory, was employed to superintend the finishing up of that business, and about a month ago the last of the prison-made chairs were pronounced completed. The wagon making has also been brought to an end, and when they are painted, the boys of the brush will be transformed into pulley of waxed ends.
The Company wants every convict to labor at St. Crispin's trade, and the warden is willing to oblige the firm.

MR. BURN ROBBINS.

The bad accident which befell this estimable gentleman, caused profound sorrow in our midst. He has a host of friends in this prison. Officers, prisoners, and the employes of M. D. Wells & Co.
speak of him in the highest terms of commendation, and it gives pleasure so read in the newspapers of the State that there is a good prospect of his finally recovering his wonted health. We gratefully remember the free show he gave us, and earnestly pray he will soon be able to travel with his circus.

AN INCREASE IN THE POPULATION.

Catharine Partick seems to have tasted of the bliss of wedlock, for she presents the State with a bouncing boy on the 3d instant. That was a sensible act on the part of the female prisoner. I think the sheriffs will soon run out of employment if we once get started at the west and lucrative business of raising up a generation of convicts in the prison. This poor woman was received into the prison from Lafayette county, December 16, 1879 and gave birth to a child on the 3d of March, 1880. Is it not astonishing that the officers of the Court would convict a woman when they knew her to be pregnant?

waxed a trifle warm, and insinuated that his opponent might be a clever sort of a man, but history was not his forte. After dinner, Sharon remarked to a friend, "Who is that little ass there who disputed my dates?" "Bacchus, the historian."

How to Help the Children Grow Erect and Stately.

William Blair, the author of "How to Get Strong and How to Stay So," spoke before the Brooklyn Teachers' Association recently on "Physical Education." "I want," said he, "to see if in an informal talk we can't hit upon some way in which we can bring the physical education of school children down to a practical basis. Our children, who are healthy and buxom when they begin school work, come out pale, sickly and with round shoulders. If you require the children under you to sit far back on a chair and to hold their chins up, you will cure them of being round shouldered, and the lungs and other vital organs will have full and healthy play. Another simple plan is to have the children bend over backward until they can see the ceiling. This exercise each day will work a wonderful transformation. If a well qualified teacher should be employed to supervise the physical development of the children, the best results would be seen. Dr. Sargent, now the Superintendent of the Harvard Gymnasium, who formerly had charge of a gymnasium in New York, has no equal as a teacher of the simple exercises by which the weak parts of the body may be developed. I think it would be well for you to send some competent physician to him to take lessons, and then the exercises could be taught your teachers. The first step should be simple and economical. Exercises of the simplest kind can be begun without any apparatus."

THE GAZETTE.

MONDAY, MARCH 15, 1880.

[From the Helena (M. T.) Herald.]
A RACE FOR LIFE.

At the time of which I write Fort Benton, now the river entrepot to Montana, was an Indian trading post much resorted to by the Blackfeet between whom and the more northern tribes of Crees there was constant war. The Crees, roaming the northwestern territory, seldom if ever ventured south of the line since established as the boundary. Old Fort, on the St. Lawrence, being usually their extreme southern limit.

One day toward the latter part of winter, however, a solitary and adventurous brave challenged a braver on foot at the gate of the Benton stockade and asked to come in. The sentry admitted him, and his gun—a curious old flint lock, such as were sold to the northern Indians by the Hudson Bay Company half a century ago—being taken from him, he was told by Mr. Wolfe, the trader then in charge of the post, to wait his business. It was then found that he did not know a word of the Sioux language and was in fact—what Mr. Wolfe suspected from his dress and head gear—a Cree.

When questioned, both then and afterward—by aid of signs and such words of the Cree dialect as were known at the fort—as to his name and motive in thus leaving his own people and exposing himself to almost certain death, he said that his name was Stenaw, and that he had tired of his life, and wanted to go to the far south, where the traders had told him there was no snow and no winter. Everything which seemed new to him about the fort he examined with the greatest curiosity. In stature he was quite tall, but slenderly made, and was judged to be not over twenty years of age. His eyes were of lighter color than most Indians; otherwise he seemed not to differ from the ordinary redskin.

Stenaw had not been at the post many hours when a party of Blackfeet were seen riding to the fort. Scarcely a day passed at this season without some of the tribe coming to trade. Mr. Wolfe hastily opened the door to a big crowd of his horse, and he and the Cree, who were advising him, with most forcible gestures and the few words he understood, to keep quiet, as he valued his life, and not let so much as his topknot be seen by the Blackfeet. While the trading was going on numbers of the young warriors, scarcely more than boys, were racing about inside the stockade, peeping into the store-houses. Suddenly the traders were prodigiously startled by the report of a gun, followed by wild whoops and a horrible uproar.

On running out half a dozen Blackfeet were seen besieging one of the back windows of one of Mr. Wolfe's houses. The foolish Stenaw had so far allowed his curiosity to get the better of his prudence as to peep out at the window for a look at his enemies. One of them had seen him, and instantly recognizing a Cree by his head dress, fired at him through the window with a gun which, contrary to the rules, he had brought into the fort, hidden under his blanket. This small, high window was broken, and the Blackfeet, yelling like blood-thirsty devils, were trying to get in while the Cree, with an ax he had picked up in the room, was making good his position with vigorous blows through the aperture.

The few armed men at the post were instantly mustered at drum beat, and pressed back the young Blackfeet, and the Blackfeet chief, Mackamoze, shouting like an old senator, called off his braves. Having learned from them the cause of the outbreak, the chief turned indignantly to Mr. Wolfe. The stern face and lively bearing of the old warrior were very striking.

"Why has my brother Mahayan a Nord Cree hidden in his lodge?" was his question. (Mahayan, I may explain was the Indian word which signified the same as Mr. Wolfe's name.)

The trader hastily explained that the man was a refugee, who had come to the fort of his own accord, and that he seemed to be a harmless wanderer.

"Nanutege, weesh!" (a cursed spy,) exclaimed Mackamoze.

Mr. Wolfe told the chief that he did not believe that the Cree was a spy, but that he appeared to be only a foolish boy on a roving tour.

"My brother Mahayan does not know the Cree," said the old Blackfeet, with a smile, then, suddenly shaking his tomahawk above his head he exclaimed: "There is bad blood between the Blackfeet and the Nord Cree. Mahayan must give him up to us."

"But the poor boy has done no harm," urged Mr. Wolfe.

"He has come into the country of the Blackfeet," said the chief sternly. "He must die."

Mr. Wolfe was at his wit's end. He did not want to give up Stenaw to be tortured and turned. But the goodwill of the Blackfeet, if forfeited, would not only ruin the trade of the post, but put all the lives jeoparded; for the Indians were both numerous and well-armed, and the force at the fort was but a handful. In this dilemma Wolfe had recourse to deception.

"My brother speaks well," said he to Mackamoze. "But with the white man's blanket is this moon of peace, which no blood must be shed. We will act the moon is at its full, come to me and I will give up to you the Cree—but on one condition."

"And what is that?" demanded the Blackfeet, who had been steadily gazing at the trader in a way that boded no good in case of a refusal.

full speed and doing his best. The second day of his training he ran around the stockade fifty-four times in one hour. On the twenty-fourth day he made eighty-nine rounds in an hour, and one or two of the last days over ninety rounds. This great increase of speed was purely the result of good, hard training, and with sufficient and very nourishing food. It was a pleasure now to see him run. He would bound away like a deer.

Punctually on the morning after the full moon in April, Mackamoze and his party came riding to the fort; and not only they but 300 warriors of the tribe. It needed not their terrific yells and exultant whoops to notify us as to what their mission was—"Moharantach buine Cree!" (Fetch out the Cree!) was the cry.

But Mr. Wolfe was determined to secure fair play for his protegee. The drums beat for a parley.

The trader then addressed Mackamoze, and told him he was ready to produce the Cree according to promise, but that the horses and guns must first be brought inside the stockade and left there, and that as the Cree was run wholly unarmed, the Blackfeet must only carry their knives. After some discussion this was agreed to, and the party dismounted inside the gate and stacked their guns. A long rope was then stretched high out on the plain in front of the fort, and behind this the crowd of Blackfeet took their places.

The trader then stepped off a hundred paces, when two of the soldiers brought the Cree by way of a little postern gate on the other side, and placed him by Mr. Wolfe. At sight of him the Blackfeet raised a shout, but Mackamoze compelled them to wait a signal.

"Now, Stenaw," said Mr. Wolfe, you must run for your life. Don't be scared (for the poor fellow was trembling in his process). You can outrun them. Get to your tribe, and I never be sorry these parts again." With this parting injunction the trader raised his hand, which was the signal agreed on. The rope dropped. With a yell, ferocious enough to appal the stoutest heart, the Blackfeet sprang toward Stenaw. Instead of bounding away, as the men expected he would, the wretched boy seemed paralyzed with fright. He faced around for an instant and then ran zig-zag and made no progress.

In less than half a minute the Blackfeet were upon him almost leaping him. He is left, we thought and gave him up for caught. But when their hands were almost upon the Cree suddenly he rallied his strength, and shook himself together for steady work. He dodged his pursuers and leaped away. At first from where the soldiers stood watching on the blockade, he seemed mixed with the Blackfeet; but he soon got clear, and opened a large space between himself and them. The traders now took breath, and the head of the little, though three or four of the leading Blackfeet were trailing him vigorously. But by the time they had run a mile and a half Stenaw was at least a hundred rods in advance of them all. He was now seen to turn and shake his fist at his pursuers, then wheeling away again, he went skimming the prairie like a coyote. In fifteen minutes he was out of sight, and that was the last the whites ever saw of him.

By ten o'clock more than half of the Blackfeet had returned to the post. Some wanted their horses, but Wolfe would let no horses pass the gate until evening. In the night the trader came in and was not much disposed to talk about the Cree, nor did the traders care to taunt them. Afterward some of the Blackfeet said at the fort that "Mahayan make strong medicine for Cree," and so he had—the best and strongest medicine for health and vigor—good, hard, sharp training.

SWORN EVIDENCE.

The following Cure is probably the most remarkable ever effected by any medicinal preparation for the treatment of Catarrh:

Gentlemen, I hereby certify that I have had Catarrh for ten years, and for the last six years have been a terrible sufferer. I was rendered partially deaf, had burning in the head, pains across the temple, dizzy spells, weak and painful eyes, swollen and ulcerated tonsils, hard and constant cough, severe pain across the chest, and constant indigestion. My head ached all the time. The doctor said I could not keep them free. Frequently at night I would spring out of bed, it seemed to me, at the point of suffocation. I would then have recourse to my throat and head before being able to sleep again. For a period of six years my tonsils were ulcerated and so much inflamed that I could with difficulty swallow. I finally consulted an eminent surgeon in regard to an operation on them, but at his request postponed it. The constant inflammation and ulceration in my throat caused by the poison matter dropped down from the nose and irritated and inflamed my lungs; I coughed incessantly—a deep, hard cough. Meanwhile my system began to show the effects of this disease. I had lost flesh, grew pale, and showed every symptom of an early death by consumption. When matters had reached this stage, or about this time, I began the use of Sanford's Catarrh Cure for Catarrh. After using the first bottle I began to improve rapidly. The first dose seemed to clear my head as I had not known it to be for years. It seemed gradually to remove the discharge. I stopped my cough in three days. By using it as a gargle soon reduced the inflammation and swelling of my tonsils, so that they soon ceased to trouble me. The soreness across my chest disappeared, the burning in my head ceased, my eyes were clear, and my hearing was completely restored. I declare, ask your druggist for this medicine, and you will be cured. I have been thus explicit because, as a druggist, I have seen great deal of suffering from Catarrh, and hope to convince many that this is a great remedy.

I am familiar with the treatment of Catarrh as practiced by the best physicians, and have consulted the most eminent about my case. I have used every kind of remedy and apparatus that has appeared in the way of cure, but have not been able to shed following their use, taken great care of my general health, but obtained no relief. I encourage you to try it.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER

Affords the most grateful relief in all Affections of the Chest and Lungs. CHRONIC PLEURISY CURED.

Messrs. WELLES & POTTER, Gentlemen, Having for many months past suffered with a very lame side, which my physician chronic Pleurisy caused by a former injury and strain, and for which I used many prescriptions and liniments, as well as the so-called rheumatic cure, without the least benefit, my physician recommended one of your COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTERS, which to my great surprise, relieved the pain and soreness almost immediately, and I have been able to attend to my household affairs ever since with perfect ease and comfort. Before the use of your plaster, I was unable to sleep, and was scarcely able to do anything. I consider them the best remedy for this disease, and I recommend them to the afflicted. Yours respectfully, MRS. FRANCES HARRISMAN. Chicago, Me., April 21, 1878.

There is no medical or protective appliance that will prove so grateful and effective in tickling, cough, irritation and soreness of the Chest and Lungs. We believe them capable of preventing serious diseases of these organs.

BRIEFLETS.

—Council night.
—Militiamen's meetings this evening.
—Prof. MacAllister gives another lecture to-morrow evening. Subject "Etching."
—Mrs. H. C. Stearns expects to start to-morrow for Ohio to pay her family friends a visit.
—Max Wyler started back to Milwaukee to-day to resume his position in the Axtell house.
—Most of the churches seemed cold yesterday. More revival meetings and more fuel needed.
—W. H. Sleep, of Waukesha, who is in charge of the Industrial School for Boys, was in the city to-day, and called at the Gazette office.
—Charles Penniman sends us copies of Louisville papers for which we are duly thankful. It appears that he has arrived safely at his new home.
—The song service given by the Young Men's Christian Association yesterday afternoon in Cannon's hall was a rouser, and drew a good house.
—To-night the members of the Fire Department vote for officers. The nominees are R. P. Young, for Chief Engineer, and John Kelly and William Metcalf for First and Second Assistants.
—During the past week at the Janesville postoffice there were 143 money orders issued amounting to $1,654.83, and 69 orders paid amounting to $1,153.24, making a total of $2,808.07, cash handled.
—One of the brands of cloth made by the Janesville cotton factory, "Badger State L. L." was quoted in Chicago Saturday at 8 cents, it being an advance of 2½ cents over the quotation of a year ago.
—To-morrow evening there is to be another meeting at the City Hall to arrange for the soldiers' reunion in Milwaukee. All interested will please tie a string around their fingers so as not to forget it.
—Rev. Mr. Hobart, a Chicago theological student, occupied the Baptist church pulpit yesterday, and gave the attendants of that church two good sermons. He is a young man of marked ability and great promise.
—One of the lady customers of a West side grocery inquired of one of the clerks the other day, whether they kept any "disconnected cocoanuts." It took some time for them to make out that it was disconnected cocoanut that was wanted.
—Miss Abbie Carrington supported by the Mendelssohn Quartet Club is to be at the Opera house on the evening of the 30th of this month, instead of the date first announced. This will be one of the finest musical entertainments ever given in the city.
—An honest-hearted old lady was coming along the sidewalk as the telegraph students came tumbling down the stairs at dinner time. She stood amazed as they swarmed out upon the street, and with a gasp exclaimed, "Lor's, mercy me! what aye them is this?"
—W. A. Webster writes us concerning the Ripon Glee Club, which is to appear at Lippin's Music hall, to-morrow evening: "They are fine young men, and anything that you may say in your paper concerning them, they can back up to the very letter. The accompanist, Prof. Stillman, is fine, and Jones, the basso, will please every one."
—A young girl, who has scarcely reached the age of fourteen, was found last evening on South Main Street, wandering about with a troop of boys at her heels. She said she hailed from near Milton, had no father or mother, or friends. She was taken in charge and lodged at the jail until the Court could dispose of her case. She will be sent probably to the Industrial School for Girls, at Milwaukee. Nothing was done with the boys.
—There was an explosion last evening which started a little flurry of excitement among those who heard it. No one seemed to know the cause of the unearthly noise, but after an hour's search it was found that some one had blasted an old stump which was lying near the Wheeler woolen factory. Some man had used powder to split up the old stump for firewood. It was split so successfully as to make it do for tooth-picks.
—Yesterday Mr. Edward Ryan, of Hanover, was stricken with paralysis, and his friends despaired of his life. Dr. St. John was summoned to attend him, and found that the stroke was not as serious as was first feared, and expects that he will recover. The Doctor made good time on the trip by his "Fox," being taken over the nine miles in thirty-five minutes. It hadn't been Sunday, there is no telling how much this time would have been cut down.
—Mr. Guy Carter had the misfortune Saturday to lose two horses. He sent a four horse team to Rockton, with a load of the waste from the cotton mill, and on the return trip, one of the horses dropped down near George Kellogg's place, and died. Another of the team died after reaching the stable. The trip was one that the horses had made time and again without trouble, and it is not supposed that the driving was the cause, but that pneumonia, congestion of the lungs, or some sudden disease took them off.
NORTHWESTERN OFFICIALS.
Superintendent E. J. Cuyler, and W. S. Mellen, Assistant General Freight Agent, of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad Company, were in the city to-day, talking up the proposed line from Janesville to Afton, connecting the two divisions of the Northwestern road. An outline of the plan was given in the Gazette of the 5th inst., and now comes the assurance that if the company can get aid to the extent of probably $6,000 or $8,000 the line will be built at once. Except this there is no news concerning the matter, beyond what has already been given in the Gazette.

BOWER CITY RIFLES, ATTENTION!

Meeting at the armory this evening. Every member is requested to be present. By order J. B. LA GRANGE, Captain.
CHAS. BROWN, Orderly Sergeant.

REPUBLICAN RALLY.

The formation of a Campaign Club effected with enthusiasm and with the view of doing some good work for the cause.

A goodly number of the Republican voters of the city met Saturday evening at the Common Council chamber, for the purpose of organizing a Republican club. The meeting was called to order by O. H. Fethers, and on his motion Pliny Norcross was elected Temporary Chairman. Stanley B. Smith was chosen Temporary Secretary. The Chairman then read the call signed by a large number of the Republican voters of the city.

The first question of discussion was as to the name and extent of the organization, whether it should be a city or a county club. After some talk it was decided to christen it "The Republican Club of the City of Janesville."

A series of by-laws were then read, amended and adopted. On motion of Dr. Palmer it was decided that for purposes of organization all who had signed the call should be considered members of the club. The selection of officers was then proceeded with, the Chairman naming as tellers, E. L. Dimock and A. P. Bennett. The following were chosen:

President—A. H. Baxter.

Vice Presidents.

First ward—H. S. Woodruff.

Second ward—Oscar F. Nowlan.

Third ward—Ed F. Carpenter.

Fourth ward—S. C. Cobb.

Fifth ward—A. P. Bennett.

Secretary—Stanley B. Smith.

Treasurer—J. C. Metcalf.

The Secretary served as a committee to escort the newly elected President to the chair. Mr. Baxter, in taking his seat as presiding officer gave a three minute talk which called out the enthusiasm of those present, and showed there was enough fire there to make the campaign a warm one.

The meeting was harmonious and enthusiastic, and indicated that the Republicans of the city are wide-awake, and propose to keep so. It is the intention of the Club to take vigorous hold of the spring election, and to keep in winning trim for the Presidential campaign. The meetings are to be held every Saturday evening, and rooms are to be secured by the Executive Committee as permanent headquarters.

A NEW TRIAL.

The case of Ald. Fitzgibbon came up before Judge Conger, at Jefferson, last Saturday on a motion for a new trial. The argument was made and Judge Conger granted the motion, on the ground that it was doubtful whether the evidence warranted a conviction.

FAITH AND PROFESSION.

Rev. E. L. Eaton, of Beloit, occupied the pulpit of the First Methodist church yesterday morning and evening in exchange with the pastor. Mr. Eaton is built for public speaking. A fine physique, a voice much more pleasant than generally falls to the lot of man, and an earnest manner, cause him to catch and hold the attention of an audience closely. He has many of the pulpitis peculiar to Dr. Huntley, and were it not for the gentleman's well-known individuality, one would think that he was making a successful imitation of the Doctor's peculiar style. The listener, closing his eyes, would imagine that he was hearing Mr. Huntley. The sermons both morning and evening were earnest and thrilling. In the evening he took as his text, Romans, 10:9 "That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thy heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved." He took the text backwards, and devoted the first half of his discourse to a showing of the necessity of faith. It was necessary to have a faith in the heart, not merely in the head. It was the heart that moved men, not the head. Men called themselves intellectual beings, and talked much about reason, but yet they were more often moved by the heart. Faith was more reasonable than unbelief. The speaker touched upon the authenticity of the Scriptures, and showed the reasonableness of believing them inspired. The necessity of believing in the resurrection of Christ was also shown, it being the greatest of all miracles, and embraces the doctrine of the atonement. In fact it was the greater which included everything less, and one could not believe that in his heart without being a Christian.

The last part of his discourse was concerning the necessity of profession. If Christians stopped this, if they kept silent, and smothered the expressions of their belief, the church would soon die. Profession without faith in the heart was worth nothing, and yet when coupled with it was worth everything.

The speaker gave some thrilling illustrations of this, and closed his sermon with a practical appeal to clutch the truths which he had driven home. The audience was large and attentive, and although the preacher consumed nearly an hour, the hearers did not seem to weary.

THE WEATHER.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS.
The thermometer at 6 o'clock last evening stood at 24 degrees above; at 1 o'clock a. m., to-day at 10 degrees above; at 7 o'clock a. m. at 8 degrees above, and at 1 o'clock p. m. at 25 degrees above. Clear.

The indications to-day are for the upper lake region, falling barometer, winds shifting to warm southerly, clearer, partly cloudy weather.

PLEASANT HILL, Miss., July 5, 1879.
Messrs. MORGAN & ALLEN, 59 John St., New York City:

I pray God that you may be spared many years to relieve others as you have me and my child. I have been taking medicine, almost daily, for thirteen years with scarcely any benefit, until the "Constitution Water" was brought to my notice. I have attended to my household duties the past week, for the first time in three months, the past month was the first month that I have escaped my severe sick head-aches. I take great pleasure in recommending "Constitution Water" to all my suffering friends.
Very respectfully,
MRS. M. A. STAYEN.

Ask your druggist for it.

BENNETT'S BENEFIT.

The concert and entertainment to be given this evening at Lippin's music hall for the benefit of D. D. Bennett promises to be one of the most enjoyable of all the home entertainments given here this season. With the attractive features presented by the programme, and with the commendable object for which the entertainment is planned, the public will need little urging. The tickets are selling well to-day, and there is no doubt but that the hall will be crowded to-night.

The "Gem Puzzle" is now all the rage. Men, women, and children all buy it. It will even mix up the brains of a sage. Send twenty cents to Lovejoy and buy it. Mailed for 20 cents by E. Lovejoy, 85, State street, Chicago.

MISS GAVIN'S HEARINGS.

Wednesday evening next Miss Emilie Gavin, of Chicago, will appear at the Opera house, and give readings such as she only can give. When she appeared before in this city before a large audience in St. Patrick's church, she established successfully and permanently her popularity here, and there were then heard so many expressions of a desire to hear her again that there is no doubt she will be greeted with a large audience again next Wednesday night. When she read in the church, she was somewhat hampered, as were also the audience, by the sanctity of the place, but on the stage she will feel more at home, and enthusiasm on the part of reader and listener will have no seeming check or chill, so that better work can be done by her and enjoyed more heartily by the auditors. She is certainly an artist of sufficient merit to entertain any audience.

An Elegant Preparation

designed to meet the public want for a hairdresser, hair dressing, and restorative, is found in Parker's Hair Balsam. It acts like magic, commencing at the very roots, removes dandruff and all humors from the scalp, and never fails to restore gray or faded hair to its original youthful color and beauty. Falling hair is immediately checked by its use, and it produces a growth of beautiful young hair, soft, glossy and luxuriant, that surprises everyone. These properties added to its exquisite perfume and purity of composition, render it the growing favorite at the toilet table everywhere. Sold in large bottles at only 50 cents and $1.00 by all first-class druggists.
